

What is the AMLA Leadership Program?

The AMLA Leadership Program consists of 9 or 10 events over the course of a year for a small group of people – 10 to 20. The goal of the program is to provide unique experiences for mortgage professionals (or people who do business with the mortgage industry) who want to be considered leaders in their companies, in AMLA, or in their individual businesses. Our events have included meetings with the State Attorney General, the Director of the Phoenix HUD office, a State Representative, the Superintendent of the Department of Financial Institutions, a top Real Estate Broker, the Real Estate Commissioner and other industry leaders. As the group moves through the year, they find new resources and contacts along the way.

You must be employed by an AMLA member to apply for the Leadership Program. In order to participate in the 2012 program, please complete this application and return it to Debbi Hill by December 31, 2011. Tuition for a full year of activities is $150.00. Graduation from the program requires active participation and attendance to at least 80% of planned events. Attendance at regular AMLA lunches, education seminars and the annual convention is encouraged.
